Pinwheels in the News

The Nevada Appeal highlighted the partnership between Advocates to End Domestic Violence and Prevent Child Abuse Nevada to show the importance of spreading awareness around child abuse prevention.

Here is a passage:

"The Carson City Legislative Building was adorned in silver and blue pinwheels Friday morning to raise awareness for child abuse and neglect.

Prevent Child Abuse Nevada and Advocates to End Domestic Violence hosted the annual pinwheel planting at the State Legislature to spread awareness about how the community can help keep children safe, happy and healthy for National Child Abuse Prevention Month. The pinwheels symbolize the freedom all children deserve.

"Everyone has a role in preventing child abuse and neglect," said Amanda Haboush-Deloye from Prevent Child Abuse Nevada."

Parenting Tips for 2016

The Heat and The Sun are Already Here!

Rainbow Sock Bubbles!!

This fun craft is just in time for summer!

All you need is:

- an empty water bottle from your recycling,
- duct tape,
- a sock that is missing its match,
- dish soap and
- some food coloring.

Start by cutting the bottom of the water bottle off. Next slide the sock over the bottom of the bottle, and secure it with colorful duct tape to secure the sock.

Pour some dish soap into a shallow container with a little bit of water and gently mix. Dip the sock covered bubble blower into the solution and gently blow.

For some extra fun, drip some food coloring in the water for colorful bubbles!!

Summer Reminders!

Beat The Heat, Check The Backseat!

With the kids getting out of school, they will be with you much more! Whether you're a parent, caregiver or bystander of a child left in a car, it's important to understand risk factors contributing to child heatstroke! Always remember to look twice before locking your vehicle.

With the first day of Summer right around the corner, it is important to protect children from sunburn. Sunburn can happen in 15 minutes but could take hours to notice the redness and discomfort.

Signs and Symptoms

- Skin redness and warmth
- pain and itchiness

More severe burns display blisters, pain and tingling, headache, nausea, fever, and dizziness.

Treatment and Care

- Immediately remove child from sun exposure
- Place child in cool (not cold) bath, or apply a cool compress as needed
- Extra fluids for 2-3 days
- To relieve pain, give child ibuprofen or acetaminophen as directed.
- Use aloe vera gel or moisturizing creams to provide comfort
- Until burn is healed, keep covered when going outside

Seek emergency medical care if pain is severe, child feels dizzy, or if there are signs of dehydration.

Prevention

- Minimize kids' sun exposure between 10AM-4PM
- Apply at least 15 SPF sunscreen 15-30 minutes before sun exposure and reapply if swimming or sweating
- Have kids wear protective clothing, glasses or hats
- Although the best way to protect babies 6 months and younger is to keep them shaded, small amounts of sunscreen can be applied.

Help keep kids burn free this summer.

requirements, strengthening protections for infants exposed to illegal substance before birth.

The bill adds a new section to CAPTA (Section 114) that requires the Secretary of HHS to monitor whether States are in compliance with the laws or programs required in State plans under Section 106(b) and specifically emphasizes monitoring state compliance with the plan of safe care requirements. Previously, states needed to submit plans to HHS that described the activities they carried out using CAPTA funds and an assurance that the state has laws or statewide programs to carry out the child abuse and neglect requirements in Section 106(b).
